The background of the slide is a high-resolution photograph of the International Space Station (ISS) in orbit above the Earth. The station's complex structure, including its multiple modules and large solar panel arrays, is clearly visible against the bright blue and white horizon of the planet. The text 'unlimited sources' is overlaid on the upper left portion of the image.

The image shows a grand, multi-story library interior. The architecture is classical, featuring high ceilings with skylights, ornate columns, and decorative iron railings on the upper levels. The walls are lined with floor-to-ceiling bookshelves filled with books. The central floor has a large, checkered tile pattern and several long wooden study tables. A few people are visible sitting at the tables, engaged in reading or study. The overall atmosphere is one of quiet scholarship and historical grandeur.

The background image shows the interior of the United Nations General Assembly hall. It is a large, semi-circular room with tiered seating for delegates. At the front, there is a large, curved wall with the United Nations emblem in the center. The room is lit with warm, golden light, and the ceiling is a complex, curved structure with recessed lighting.
